Summary

I study misinformation, news, and social media, using a variety of methods such as surveys, online experiments, and social media field experiments.

Scientific accomplishments

I have published 46 peer reviewed articles – 31 of them as first author. Most articles have been published in leading communication and psychology journals. I have also published in general interest journals, with four articles in Nature Human Behaviour. My articles have been cited more than 3900 times (h-index = 32).

I have been invited to present my work in 26 labs around the world and have given 29 presentations at international conferences, 6 of them as invited talks.

Professional activities and leadership

I have reviewed more than 90 articles, including for NHB, PNAS, Nat Com, Pol Com, NMS, JESP and Cognition.

I have supervised 4 master students and one PhD student, and mentored a second PhD student. I published articles with them, including one in Nature Human Behaviour on which I am the corresponding author.

Outreach

I am a dedicated science communicator. I have given 27 public talks, appeared in 16 podcasts and interviews, and have written 39 articles for the general public, journalists (Reuters, Libération, Le Point) and policy makers (European commission, Assemblée Nationale, DITP, NASEM).

I have been frequently quoted in the popular press, such as in TIME, the Washington Post, Bloomberg, Politico, Wired, Nature, Science, Deutsche Welle, Le Figaro, or Le Parisien.
